LAGOON 42

THE PIONEER OF THE PREVIOUS GENERATION

TEST in MW148

The 42 marked a turning point in the Lagoon range: this was the model first featuring the aft-set rig, a generation ahead of the Lagoon 51 that saw the return of the overlapping genoa. With the 42, the ergonomics are still improving - especially the very successful centered navstation - and performance is on the rise. Tests under spinnaker in breezy conditions, although the boat was being handled by a professional crew in 28 knots with full mainsail and asymmetrical spinnaker, show an astonishing glide and passage through the water, with speeds of over 16 knots surfing, with video to back it up! Remarkable performance (and images) for such a comfortable 42-footer.
